Principal Gallagher's Office

We had another exciting week at SFDS. I have been spending a lot of time with teachers the past couple of weeks conducting formal evaluations. This is one of several tools we use to help teachers grow as educators. Although your child sees me in their room many times, the formal observation sometimes feels a little bit more official, so your child may talk about it with you.

Our 1st and 5th grade classrooms facilitated an outstanding Prayer Service on Friday morning. Make sure to ask your child the about what they are thankful for.

We had our November Student of the Month Breakfast for this year. The winners were nominated by staff and then five students were selected based on those nominations. Alaina, Steffany, Valeria, Elsie and Liddy.

Dr. Greenberg spoke to our middle school students regarding nutrition, wellness and exercise as it pertains to a healthy life style. Thank you to Dr. Greenberg and his team.

Normally I don't like to mention the "s word", but it will have to come at some point, so it is time to check our alert system. I will email you when we have tried our callout. We will be testing the system the first week of December to make sure we have 100% success, so you may get a call or email asking if your contact information is correct.
