

How St. Francis de Sales School Teaches Me to be Christ to Others
By: Michael
7th Grade

St. Francis de Sales Parish School helped a lot with living as a Catholic and being Christ to others. One way St. Francis de Sales Parish School taught me how to be Christ to other people is that they taught me about Jesus and how he helped people who were sinners. Jesus showed us that you can be nice and help people even if they are mean or hurtful towards others or yourself. St. Francis de Sales Parish School also taught me how to be a Catholic by going to mass and learning how saints and other people who were Catholics lived their life. I learned at an early age to be nice and caring to others and to not lie. St. Francis de Sales Parish School taught me a lot over the years, but I feel one thing was the most impactful during 1st through 7th grade. The most important and impactful thing was the teachers treating everyone nicely and being role models for all the students. They didn't only teach us how to be like Christ and be a Christian, but they showed us how to. That is only a little of how St. Francis de Sales Parish School helped me as a Catholic.
